SOCIALISM AND UNIONISM

Adopted by National Convention Socialist Party, May 1923

Political action and industrial action are equally necessary in the struggle for improvement of the conditions of the working class, and for its ultimate emancipation. Neither method is complete without the other. The activity of the labor unions and that of the working class party must be harmoniously coordinated in order that each may be brought to its highest efficiency. To promote such coordination is today one of the most important tasks of the Socialist Party.

It is the duty of the Socialist Party, its press, and its auxiliary institutions, to give whole-hearted support to the labor organizations in all their struggles for higher wages, shorter hours, and better working conditions, and in all their efforts to increase their membership, to maintain and enlarge their legal rights, and to spread a correct understanding of their purposes.

The Socialist Party has a right to ask of the labor unions the opportunity to reach their membership for the purpose of presenting its views upon subjects of interest to the working class as a whole. It has a right to ask them for cooperation and support in defending political liberty and civil rights. Experience shows that if these things are asked in a fraternal spirit they will not in the long run be refused.

It is neither the right nor the interest of the Socialist to attempt to dictate to the unions concerning their internal affairs nor to interfere in the jurisdictional and other disputes which sometimes unfortunately divide the labor movement. The only service it can render in this direction is to spread such knowledge and such a spirit as will tend to lift these controversies above the level of personal and factional strife, and to promote their settlement on grounds of principle.

Every Socialist who is eligible to union membership ought to be within the ranks of Organized Labor. Every member of the Socialist Party who neglects this duty does injury to the Party as well as to the unions.

It is not enough for Socialist workingmen to hold formal union membership. It is their duty to distinguish themselves by activity, devotion, and good faith within the union as well as within the Party. Their influence should be used, not only to strengthen the unions in their immediate struggles, but also to cultivate among the rank and file an ever deeper feeling of working-class solidarity, and an ever clearer understanding of economic principles. By these means they can best hasten the normal development of the American labor movement along the lines of a closer industrial organization, a broader outlook upon social questions, and a more far-reaching purpose than it has hitherto attained.

The Socialist Party specifically points out the error into which sincere, but too impatient Socialists, or persons reputed to be Socialists, have sometimes fallen, of seeking to capture the unions, or to force their own ideas upon them by schismatic organization within their ranks, and by factious attacks upon their leaders. These methods have seldom, if ever, yielded good results, and they have often done grave harm, both to the unions concerned, and to the Socialist Party. It is by convincing the rank and file, not by dividing them, nor by discrediting their officers, that progress is made.

SOCIALIST PARTY OF AMERICA

OTTO F. BRANSTETTER Bus. Mgr.

EUGENE V. DEBS

After a long period of devoted and unselfish service to the workers of America, was rewarded by the Capitalist Courts placing him in prison.

After an imprisonment of three years had shattered his health the world saw this undaunted champion leave the prison with head erect, undaunted and undefeated to renew his fight against Capitalism for the freedom of the working class to which he belongs and to whom his life is dedicated.

Therefore be it resolved:

That the Delegates of the National Convention of the Socialist Party, assembled in New York extend to Eugene V. Debs our most sincere love and greetings; and

Be it further resolved; That we assure Comrade Eugene V. Debs that we rejoice that his health has been restored and that his invaluable services are again at the disposal of the Socialist Party and the working class in general.

His work is an inspiration to the Socialists of America, a work that will hasten the downfall of Capitalism and the ushering in of the cooperative commonwealth." Adopted.

LABOR EDUCATION

Whereas: The greatest need of the hour in the rank and file of the American Labor Movement is a more intelligent understanding of its history, aims, struggles and ideals, and a more informed and efficient leadership to guide and inspire it onward to ever greater conquests on the industrial, political, cooperative, and cultural fields; and

Whereas: A number of trade unions, central labor bodies and independent elements of the labor movement have made more or less successful attempts in the establishment of labor schools and colleges; and

Whereas: Efforts are now being made to organize, coordinate, and bring into active co-operation all these separate experiments so that greater efficiency may be attained in this work and more satisfying results achieved;

Be it Resolved: That the Socialist Party of America in Convention assembled extends its heartiest cooperation towards the proposed union of efforts in the wide and fruitful field of Labor Education, and furthermore stands pledged to contribute its resources in this work, not necessarily in the partisan spirit of Socialist propaganda, rather in the wider aim of helpfulness, to the end of enhancing the strength, confidence, clear-sightedness, leadership and morale of a truly progressive American Labor Movement.

THE NEGRO WORKERS

The National Convention of the Socialist Party records its hearty appreciation of the Negro Socialists who are doing so much to awaken the Negro workers to a knowledge of Socialism. The Convention commends to the earnest consideration of all white wage workers the necessity of co-operation with the Negro workers, encouraging their organization in labor unions, and breaking down the prejudices that still survive.

Not until the white worker recognizes that the Negro worker is a part of the wage working class, and has problems similar to his, will the Socialist movement and the trade unions acquire the power and influence that should be theirs. Every tendency that promotes sympathy and mutual understanding between the Negro and white workers must be encouraged for the purpose of strengthening the labor movement itself.

Above all, the white wage workers should wage an unremitting warfare of education against such bigoted and reactionary movements as the Ku Klux Klan, which aim to make of the Negro people a race of serfs, to be perpetually exploited by a white ruling class. Our Negro brothers are the special victims of Klanism. Their fathers had a terrible experience with this brutal and ignorant organized prejudice against color. This reactionary movement against the Negro worker is equally dangerous to the white worker and both have a common cause against it.

The Convention especially commends the organ of the Negro Socialists, the Messenger, as a scholarly publication of great value in educating Negro workers, and fitting them to cope with the problems that bear with peculiar harshness on all Negro workers. The Convention urges the white comrades to aid our Negro comrades in extending the circulation and influence of the Messenger so that its service to the cause of emancipation may be increased many fold.

REPLY TO THE FARMER-LABOR PARTY

Mr. J. G. Brown, Secretary,
Farmer Labor Party of the U. S.,
166 W. Washington St.,
Chicago, Illinois.

Dear Sir and Brother:

The National Convention of the Socialist Party has earnestly considered the invitation extended by the Farmer-Labor Party to the Socialist Party and other organizations of workers to attend a national conference in Chicago, beginning July 3, to discuss "such steps as may be necessary to bring about complete unity of the political forces of the entire working class."

The Socialist Party fully agrees with the Farmer-Labor Party as to the desirability of uniting the workers on the political field. The only question is how soon and by what means this end can best be attained.

A necessary condition to the establishment of a really powerful political party of the working class is the active support of at least a majority of the great trade unions. Unless there is assurance that this support is now obtainable, any attempt at this time to effect the proposed "unity of the political forces of the entire working class" would result in disappointment.

Is there reason to believe that a sufficient number of powerful national and international unions favor independent political action at the present time? We wish that we could answer this question in the affirmative. Candoit compels us to admit that, while there are evidences of widespread discontent with the parties of capitalism within the ranks of Organized Labor, comparatively few of the great unions are yet ready to take the decisive step of launching a working-class party on a national scale.

We are convinced that working-class opinion is fast evolving in this direction, influenced thereto by the logic of events as well as by the arguments of those who already advocate independent political action. We think, however, that it would be a mistake to force the issue prematurely, or to take such action as might give a delusive appearance of political unity of the whole working class without the reality.

The Socialist Party has decided to continue its affiliation with the Conference for Progressive Political Action. It believes that by working through state conferences called by that body, where the views of labor organizations in each state will be directly represented, it will at the present juncture best advance the cause of working-class unity on the political field.

For these reasons the National Convention of the Socialist Party declines the proffered invitation to the Chicago Conference.

With fraternal greetings, we are

(Signed) Wm. H. Henry

SOVIET RUSSIA

The Socialist Party of the United States, assembled in National Convention, reaffirms its position in favor of the recognition of the Russian Government. The Russian revolution overthrew the most cruel and despotic government of modern times. If the revolution accomplished nothing else, its achievement in this respect will always be glorious in the long struggle of the working class.

Despite differences that have arisen with the Communist International it is to the credit of the Socialist and Labor parties of the world that they continue to demand the recognition of the Soviet Government. Any other position would be to range working class organizations with czarists and imperialists. These enemies of the Soviet Government cannot be our friends. They are our enemies as well.

Differences in working class organizations never justify support of the common enemy. To do so would be to repudiate the class solidarity which inspires intelligent working class action. For these reasons the Socialist Party again records its demand for the recognition of Soviet Russia. It hopes that relations with Russia will soon be resumed, and that through trade and commerce with the rest of the world millions of suffering men, women, and children in Russia will be relieved.

RECOGNITION OF MEXICO

Whereas: The Government of the United States has continuously refused to recognize the present government of Mexico; and

Whereas: Certain financial and oil interests in this country are maintaining an aggressive propaganda and campaign in favor of the intervention of the United States in Mexico; and

Whereas: The Mexican people for the first time in their history have established a government, which is primarily interested in the economic welfare of the working masses; therefore

Be it Resolved: That we, the Socialist Party, in National Convention assembled in the City of New York on the 21st day of May 1923, demand the official recognition of the Mexican government by the United States; and

Be it Further Resolved: That we urge all local organizations of the Party, as well as all sympathetic organizations, to take advantage of every opportunity to urge recognition of Mexico by the United States.

THE FASCISTI

Whereas: The Fascisti of Italy, through force and violence of the worst form, have almost destroyed all that the Socialists, Labor and Liberals have built in the thirty years of hard and faithful labor for the workers of that country; and

Whereas: The Fascisti menace, encouraged and helped by the capitalists of all countries, is spreading to other lands; and

Whereas: In the City of New York, an Anti-Fascisti Alliance has been formed under the auspices of the Italian Chamber of Labor; be it

Resolved: That this Convention of the Socialist Party endorses the work of the Anti-Fascisti Alliance; and be it further

Resolved: That the Executive Committee of the Socialist Party request every local affiliated with it to cooperate and assist in the work of informing the American public and the American Labor Movement of the nefarious work of the Fascisti, and as to the best means of preventing the spread of anti-social forces in this country.

POLITICAL PRISONERS

Whereas: More than fifty persons, indicted under wartime legislation, and convicted in the heat of jingoistic hysteria, are still languishing in prison cells; and

Whereas: The court records show these men are guilty of no active violence against life or property, but are being held solely for expression of opinion; and

Whereas: In the case of U. S. vs. Hammer-schmidt, et al, twelve defendants now awaiting final judgment by the U. S. Supreme Court, although five years have passed since the World War, these twelve defendants being the victims solely of anti-war opinion, are still facing the prison bars; and

Whereas: The political prisoners who have been released have not been restored to full rights of citizenship; therefore be it

Resolved: That we, the Socialist Party members, in Convention assembled, demand the immediate and unconditional amnesty of all wartime prisoners, both civil and military, and that we declare the action of President Harding and his associates to be in direct violation of all historic precedence, as well as an offense to present day sense of decency and justice; and be it further

Resolved: That we demand that the release of these political and military prisoners shall carry with it full amnesty in the restoration of all citizenship rights held by the prisoners before conviction; and be it also

Resolved: That we demand the dismissal of the case against Hammerschmidt et al, in the city of Cincinnati, Ohio.

SOCIALIST PRISONERS IN RUSSIA

Whereas: The Soviet Government of Russia has imprisoned thousands of members of non-Bolshevik working class organizations many of them having rendered heroic service against czarism and even against the Allied Interventionists and czarist generals; and

Whereas: This policy of repressing other organizations of the working class embarrasses our work for the release of our own political and class war prisoners, and even erects barriers against recognition of the Soviet Government itself; therefore

Be it resolved: That the Socialist Party of the United States, which has always opposed efforts of the Allied Powers to intervene in Russia, and whose activity in behalf of Russian recognition gives us the right to criticise and advise the Russian Government protests against this policy of political persecution, and urges the Soviet Government to abandon it as injurious to itself and to the workers of all countries.

INDUSTRIAL PRISONERS

Whereas: Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings in California, convicted under perjured evidence, and later proven beyond the shadow of a doubt innocent of the charge for which they are still held behind prison bars, for a period of more than six years, and inasmuch as no technical legal procedure has been found to provide for the release of these men; be it therefore

Resolved: That we demand of the Governor of California that Mooney and Billings be at once released with all citizenship rights restored, and their cases be dismissed from the Courts of California.

Whereas: Sacco and Vanzetti of Massachusetts have also been convicted as a result of capitalistic frame-ups; be it therefore

Resolved: That we demand the release of Sacco and Vanzetti and call for the dismissal of their case from the courts of Massachusetts.

SYNDICALIST LAWS

Whereas: There are a number of states in the Union, notably California and Michigan, Washington and Pennsylvania, in which a Criminal Syndicalist Law provides opportunity for the most vicious prosecution and persecution of the workers in the industrial and political movements, and scores of our fellow workers and comrades are serving time in state prisons, convicted under these laws, oftentimes by juries that were unquestionable prejudiced or terrorized into rendering a verdict pleasing to the capitalistic interests;

Be it Resolved: That the Socialist Party, in convention assembled, pledge its support to all organizations and bodies in their effort to remove these laws from the States where they now exist; and further

Be it Resolved: That all these aforesaid issues be taken up by the Socialist Party Locals and comrades all over the nation, and given the widest publicity to the end that innocent men imprisoned under wartime hysteria and a class war persecution may be freed, and laws inimical to the rights of organized labor and the interests of the working class may be blotted off our State and National Law Books.

OPEN SHOP

The drive for the so called open shop (which really means the non union shop) is again being resumed, after a momentary defeat.

Great combinations of capitalists are undertaking a determined campaign for the destruction of organized labor. They have millions to spend on hiring thugs, spies, and disruptionists, and in subsidizing a widespread anti-union propaganda. They can afford to lose millions in present profits, if thereby they can assure thousands of cheap and submissive labor in the years to come.

These exploiters care no more for the interests of the public than for the welfare of their own employees. They do not scruple to paralyze whole industries, to throw multitudes of producers out of work, to hold up building and curtail the output of food, clothing and all necessities of life, regardless of the loss and misery they inflict not only upon the wage workers and their wives and childrens, but also upon the working farmers and other large classes.

The fight threatens to be a long and bitter one. Prompt, united, and unflinching resistance is Labor's only hope. The Socialist Party must and will join in that resistance with all the forces at its disposal.

The National Executive Committee is instructed to proceed without delay to the preparation and publication of a series of leaflets, pamphlets and small books treating in a popular yet scientific manner, with economics and labor questions, and suited to be used in systematic propaganda and educational work, particularly among the organized workingmen of the whole country.

WEST VIRGINIA

Whereas: In the State of West Virginia the public officials in the mining districts have suppressed all rights of free speech, free press, and freedom of assemblage; and

Whereas: The coal mining companies are employing armed guards, thugs, and mercenaries of the lowest order, in order to prevent the United Mine Workers from organizing the workers in the state of West Va.

Therefore be it Resolved: That we, the Socialist Party, in National Convention assembled at New York on this 22nd day of May 1923, protest most vigorously against the conduct of the public officials of W. Va., and demand that the constitutional guarantees be restored to the workers in that State; and

Be it Further Resolved: That we express our profound sympathy with the United Mine Workers in their fight to establish a decent standard of living in West, Va.

CO-OPERATIVE MOVEMENT

The Convention of the Socialist Party notes with pleasure the attempts made by workers in different parts of the country to establish a cooperative movement, and urges the comrades everywhere to initiate the work of organizing workingclass co-operatives, and assisting those already in existence.

In going thus on record in favor of cooperative enterprise the Party is not unmindful of the possible danger of over-emphasizing its importance at the expense of other branches of the labor movement. It is also cognizant of the fact that in some instances the commercial nature of the undertaking may have a tendency to weaken the fighting spirit of the economic organization bound up with it.

It is therefore all the more urgent that the class conscious workers take an active part in the work of the cooperatives and guard jealously against the possible pitfalls. As a general rule however, it is the opinion of the delegates of this Convention that the benefits of the cooperative movement are not only in the material relief that may be gained by the workers in utilizing their purchasing power, but also in training and preparing the working class ultimately to assume control over the industries and run them in the interest of the people.

THE COAL MINING SITUATION

Whereas: One of the richest of the natural resources of this country lies in the immense deposits of coal veins scattered throughout some thirty states of the Union; and

Whereas: This natural wealth has been permitted to become the object of reckless and wasteful exploitation and spoliation through its private ownership and manipulation; and

Whereas: The predatory interests of the owners of our coal field have compelled the consumers of this land to render them enormous tribute in the form of huge profits, not only for serviceable coal, but often for common dirt, rock and slate; and

Whereas: The most shameful feature of this whole sordid business is displayed in the brutal and despotic treatment of hundreds of thousands of miners, whose living conditions are often pitiful in their merciless poverty and slavery under the absolute domination of their feudal lords—the mine-owners in many parts of the country;

Be it Resolved: That the Socialist Party of America, in National Convention assembled, proposes the nationalization of the coal resources of the United States, and substituting thereby collective enterprise and true public service as the sole aim of mining operations, instead of private gain and the accumulation of immense wealth in the possession of a few; and furthermore

Be it Resolved: That we extend our congratulations to the United Mine Workers of America in their heroic struggles against their unscrupulous masters, and that we rejoice with them in their hard earned victories in improved working and living conditions. The Socialist Party of America pledges in the future the same support it has given the miners in their many battles in past years, and it urges them not only to propagate the proposal for the nationalization in their industry but also to carry on such education in their ranks that will inspire a self reliance and a determination to be prepared to take over the management and operation of the mines in the event of their nationalization to the end that greater efficiency will follow and direct benefits will be attained by the miners and their families and the people of the United States.

Resolved: That we recommend that the National Executive Committee issue leaflets in support of the Railroad and Mine Workers, for the National ownership and democratic management of their respective industries.

REPLY TO THE WORKERS PARTY

A communication of the Workers Party, addressed to the national convention of the Socialist Party proposes the organization of a "united front" This coalition is proposed in order to promote:

1. Amalgamation of the trade unions;
2. To protect foreign born workers;
3. To repudiate the Vienna Union, the Amsterdam International of Trade unions, and the Second International;
4. To support the recognition of Soviet Russia;
5. To remove certain governmental obstacles hindering the struggle of the workers;
6. To bring about a nation-wide Labor Party.

After a careful consideration of this proposal the national convention of the Socialist Party resolves to send the following answer to the Workers' Party:

It is our earnest conviction that if the Communists had urged organizations of the working class to form a united front at the end of the World War, "regardless of political differences," as the Workers Party now urges, this front would have been established five years ago. Instead of this policy, the Communist International pursued a deliberate policy of division. It ordered splits in every country. It sowed hatreds and dissensions among the working class. It destroyed all possibility of solidarity of the workers in each nation. It brought civil war into the organizations of the workers.

This policy was all the more criminal considering that the allied ruling classes were consolidating the loot of the imperialist war. This policy was continued down to so recent a period as one year ago. It was continued even while the ruling classes were making assaults upon all organizations of the workers. The result was pessimism, weakness, and even prostration before the capitalist enemy.

Having split the organizations of the workers until no more splits were possible, the Communist International then adopted the slogan of the "united front." It agreed to meet with the Second International and the Vienna Union in Berlin, April, 1922. The negotiations failed to effect a "united front." Even before the conference met in Berlin, the Executive Committee of the Third International, in a meeting held the previous December, formulated a document defining what Communists mean by the "united front."

In this statement no secret was made of the Communists' intention to stifle us and poison us in their embrace. One paragraph of this document of the Communist International read:

"Comrades of the Third International, there is a movement on foot in Europe for a united front. It does not matter whether we are in favor of it or not; our tactics compel us to appear to be in favor of it; but we ask the Communist sections all over Europe to take part in the creation of the united front, not for the purpose of making it effective, but for the purpose of strengthening the Communists through direct propaganda inside organizations taking part in the movement."

Here we have an authoritative statement of the highest body in the Communist International defining what Communists mean by a "united Front." It is a notorious fact that Communists in all countries carry out instructions from Moscow. It is also a matter of common knowledge that Radek, in a letter written before the meeting of the Berlin Conference, confirmed this interpretation of the "united front." In that letter he said that the proposal was only a "tactical manoeuvre" to carry the methods of Communists into other organizations of the workers.

There is no reason for us believing that the proposal of the Workers Party is not of the same character. Nor can we believe that it is any more honest. It is couched in language similar to the pleas which the Communist International made prior to the meeting of the Berlin Conference.

There are other reasons for believing that the proposal is dishonest. If the Workers Party is sincere in what its speakers and publications have said and are saying about the Socialist Party, then the members of that party are guilty of gross misconduct in seeking to associate themselves with us. If the Socialist Party is not what they have said and continued to say it is, then the Workers Party is guilty of deliberate falsehoods and is unworthy of consideration.

The reason for its frantic attempts to be associated with us is not a mystery. It has weakened other organizations but it has not developed any strength of its own. Five years of Communist wrecking methods have left the Workers Party with a smaller membership than all Communist organization had in 1919. Its English-speaking membership in the United States, as reported by one of its prominent members Israel Amter, in the International Press Correspondence (Berlin), issue of April 19, 1923, is only a little over 1500. There is the further fact that the Workers Party today has not, after five years of Communist agitation, established a political standing for itself in a single city of this country.

These are the reasons why it eagerly seeks to conceal its failure and weakness by attaching itself to the Socialist Party in some sort of a political coalition.

As for the other matters mentioned in this proposal, the Socialist Party always has, to the full extent of its resources, presented and defended the interests of the working class. It will continue to do so. It has claimed recognition for Russia as well. It is content to go its way, confident that the fate awaiting all Communist organizations is what they have justly earned. We shall strive for a real "united front," not one based on dishonest motives or secret aims. We believe in a unity that unites, not one that divides.

For these reasons we are compelled to reject the proposal contained in the communication of the Workers Party.

THE FORWARD, THE CALL AND THE LEADER

The National Convention of the Socialist Party, aware of the importance and value to the workers of daily publications representing the claims of the working class, hereby records its appreciation of the long services rendered to the Jewish workers by the Daily Forwards, and to the English-speaking workers by the Daily Call, and the Milwaukee Leader.

The Convention also records its appreciation of the militant attitude of the Call in behalf of the Socialist Party and the trade union struggles, and its improved character during the past few months. The Convention is happy to learn that the trade union organizations are more and more coming to the support of The Call, financially and otherwise, and it looks forward to the day when The Call will be a great and powerful metropolitan daily, as well as an inspiration to other daily Socialist papers to be published in other parts of the country.

Minutes of the N. E. C. Meeting in New York following the Convention and other important matter omitted from this issue will be published in the July number.

REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

To The National Convention, New York City, May 19-22, 1923

The minutes of all meetings of the committee and all business transacted by correspondence had been published from month to month in the Socialist World, and should be familiar to all of the convention delegates. Under these circumstances, the committee feels that a very brief summary of the more important actions of the committee during the past year is all that is required in the form of a report at this time.

International Relations

In accordance with the action taken by the last convention, the Socialist Party of America applied for and was admitted to membership in the International Working Union of Socialist parties. Comrades Hillquit, Berger and Lee were elected International delegates to attend an International Congress which had been called to meet in August, 1922.

This Congress was postponed after Comrade Lee had already sailed. A report of Comrade Lee's observations upon the European situation was printed in the October issue of the Socialist World.

All attempts of the Vienna Working Union of Socialist Parties to arrange an International Conference, to be participated in by the Second International, the International Working Union of Socialist Parties and the Communist International have failed, but a Congress consisting of the Socialist parties affiliated with the Second International and the Vienna Union, as well as a number of independent parties, has been called, to meet at Hamburg on May 21st. The National Executive Committee has issued credentials to Comrades Morris Hillquit, Victor L. Berger, Jacob Panken and Morris Berman to attend this congress as delegates from our organization. Just prior to the convening of the Hamburg Congress on May 21st, an International Socialist Women's Congress will meet at Hamburg, for which credentials have been issued to Comrades Mrs. Berger and Mrs. Hillquit.

Conference for Progressive Political Action

The delegates are familiar with the situation regarding the Conference for Progressive Political Action. A meeting of this Conference was held in Cleveland in December, 1922, of which a report was published in the December issue of the Socialist World.

This being an off year, no particular activities have been undertaken by the Conference, but another meeting has been called for December, at which time the Conference will consider the advisability of calling a National Convention early in 1924, for the purpose of nominating Presidential and Vice-Presidential candidates on a National Labor ticket. The whole question of our continued relations with the conference is before this Convention in the form of Agenda motions.

Amnesty

All Socialist Party political prisoners have been released, but we have continued our agitation for the release of all prisoners thru special press services and a large number of articles in the Socialist World, while Comrade Debs in all his meetings makes a special plea for the political prisoners.

Russian Relief Fund

The Russian Relief Fund was closed last October with expenditure of all funds which had been collected to that date. The total receipts for this fund amounted to $6,453.18, and the expenditures were as follows:

New York Call fund	$2,000.00
Wm. Eisenstadt, 2 carloads soap	3,937.50
American Friends Service Committee ..	515.68

The two carloads of soap consisted of two purchases of 25,000 pounds each. The first shipment was delivered direct to the Soviet representatives at Reval, and the second to the Distributing Agents of the Friend Service Committee.

The Headquarters Property

In accordance with the motion adopted by the last National Convention, authorizing the sale of the Headquarters property at the discretion of the Committee, the property was sold last October, to William K. Pflaum, representing the Milk Wagon Drivers Union of Chicago. The price received was $36,375; expenses in connection with the sale were $1056, making a net price of $35,319. The property originally cost the party $25,000. The transaction, therefore, shows a net profit of something over $10,000. An itemized statement of this transaction was published in the Socialist World for October of last year. The headquarters are now established at 2418 West Madison St., rental of which is $135 a month. While the quarters are not entirely satisfactory, they are adequate for the present needs of the organization.

Membership

The actual dues paying membership has remained stationary during the past year but the general interest and activity in the Party Branches has increased considerably within the past six months.

The average monthly membership for the year ending December 31 was 11,019, and for the year ending April 30, 11,084, while the average membership for the first four months of this year was 12,474.

Following is a tabulation of the membership by English and foreign language branches for the year ending April 30th

Membership from April, 1922 to May, 1923

The Debs Meetings

The delegates are familiar with the fact that Comrade Debs is now engaged in a speaking tour of the larger cities of the East, which is proving highly successful in all respects. Tremendous crowds are present at every meeting, and thousands are unable to gain admission. It is expected that the interest aroused at these meetings will result in strengthening the organization not only in the cities where the meetings are held, but in the country as a whole.

Comrade Debs has placed his speaking engagements in the hands of the National Office exclusively, and tentative plans have been made for speaking tours covering the remainder of the present year.

Y. P. S. L. and Federations

The Young Peoples Socialist League has made gratifying progress during the past year, and the committee recommends that the Convention and the incoming committee continue the policy of rendering them every possible assistance and cooperation in their work.

The Language Federations have been affected in the same manner and to about the same extent as the Party by the conditions existing during the past five years, but there is a noticeable improvement in their reports for the first four months of this year, and they will no doubt keep pace with the growth of the Party that is now commencing.

Individual reports will be submitted to the Convention by the Secretaries of the Y. P. S. L. and the respective Federations.

Finances

On the first of the year the expenses of the National Office were reduced to a minimum, and for the first time in a number of years the receipts have exceeded the expenses, and some progress is being made towards reducing the indebtedness of the National Office.

On December 31st, we had a cash balance of $271.00 (exclusive of $7500.00 in the Building Fund) and an indebtedness of $8096.32.

On May 15th, we had a cash balance of $1341 00 (exclusive of $5000.00 in the Building Fund) and an indebtedness of $4896.90.

We had reduced our indebtedness by $3200.00 and increased our cash balance by $1069.00, making a total of $4269.00. Deducting from this amount an additional loan of $2500.00 from the Building Fund leaves a net gain of $1769 since the first of the year.

Our present indebtedness, exclusive of $5000.00 borrowed from the Building Fund, amounts to $4896.90 as follows:

Accrued Accounts	$1237.66

Organization and Propaganda

The elections this year are of minor importance, and the entire energy of the Party should be devoted to rebuilding the organization in preparation for the campaign of 1924. The reduction of the Party indebtedness, the reviving interest and enthusiasm noticeable throughout the movement and the improvement in Comrade Debs' health, which permits of extended lecture tours, offers a particularly favorable opportunity for Party building.

This is the most important matter before the Convention, and your Committee is satisfied what a systematic, aggressive campaign this year will result not only in a greatly increased membership, but in a more united, harmonious and aggressive organization than we have ever had. The one all-important question before this Convention is that of Organization.

Fraternally submitted,

National Executive Committee

Otto Branstetter

Executive Secretary

COMMITTEE ON THE Y. P. S. L.

The committee believes with the management of the Young Peoples Socialist League, that all members under 26 years of age should be compelled to join the Young People League, with only the additional obligation of paying the local dues to the Y. P. S. L.

The committee also believes that a certain percentage of the $40,000 fund should be given to the Y. P. S. L. For the purpose of discussion the committee suggests the amount should be at least ten per cent.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

The National Convention of the Socialist Party rejoices at the prospect of a union of the Socialist Parties and trade unions of the world into one comprehensive International. The Convention records its conviction that experience and history, especially the experience of the past nine years, show that such an International must be based on acceptance of the principle of the class struggle.

The Convention therefore hopes that the deliberations now in progress in Hamburg between the two Internationals will result in their union into one organization. It hopes that this union will mark the beginning of a greater and more powerful International, an International that will witness the emancipation of the working class of all countries.

William M. Feigenbaum, alternate to the Convention, was seated.

Vice-Chairman Herman took the Chair at 3:40.

Delegate Melms for the Committee on Organization, Propaganda, and Finance, made the following recommendations, which were adopted by the Convention:

1. Regarding the proposition for Radio propaganda, submitted by the State Committee of New York, this Committee believes that this matter should be referred to the incoming National Executive Convention.

2. This Committee recommends to the Convention the need of a series of two page leaflets, that should be written by our best writers, and printed on good paper in clear, bold, and readable type, leaflets not cheaply gotten out, but something that will attract the eye, and hold attention. In the past one of the justifiable criticisms of our literature has been the poor quality of paper, and the smallness of the type used. No commercial house would dare use in an advertising campaign the poor and unattractive quality of stuff we have put out. An occasional leaflet containing a powerful cartoon should also be gotten out, as the cartoon will attract many to read a leaflet that would otherwise be thrown down.

Books and Pamphlets. Most of our literature is out of date, especially that of a specific propaganda nature, and new books should be published, dealing with the problems that have been brought to the front by world events of the past few years.

3. Competitive Drive for New Members. Resolved, That a special commission be appointed to conduct a nationwide competitive drive for new members on the following plan:

1. To encourage every State of the American Union to strive for a banner, to be awarded to the State showing the largest percentage of gain in membership between now and the National Convention of 1924.

2. To encourage individual comrades to compete in the same period for a—A gold medal to be awarded to the comrade securing the largest number of new members.

b—One of nine gold medals to the comrades next in the order of their accomplishments.

c—One of 15 silver medals to the comrades following in order of their accomplishments.

No gold medal to be awarded for a less number than 40 new members.

No silver medal to be awarded for a less number than 20 members

Honorable mention to be given in the Socialist World for those states and comrades following closely upon the winners.

4. That the incoming National Executive Committee consider the organizing of Women's Socialist Clubs or Branches and to expend upon such work as much of the organization funds as possible.

5. Believing that in place of the old method of merely holding street meetings, organizers should do more individual solicitation and intensive organizing work, the Committee recommends that the National Organizers hereafter sent out shall be assigned a district and that they shall concentrate their work, so far as may reasonably be done, in the industrial centers; and that they be supplied by the National Office with organizing literature, consisting of various follow-ups, including sustaining membership literature; and such organizers shall be required to make detailed daily reports showing houses visited, literature put out, persons solicited, etc.

There shall be appointed by the National Secretary, as soon as possible, a National Organizer, who shall direct this work.

Having in mind the fact that expenses can be greatly reduced by engaging the services of local residents when organization campaigns are in progress, your Committee further recommends that such a policy shall be followed wherever it offers practical results, and the National Director of Organization shall use his best efforts to secure competent local organizers.

Above recommendations approved and referred to the incoming National Executive Committee. Telegram of greeting was read to the Convention from the Vest Workers Union of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America. Peter Monat, Mgr., Max Greenberg, Secretary.

Telegram of greetings was read from the N. Y. Joint Board of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, A. E. Kasen, Sec. Treas.

OFFICIAL BUSINESS

To All Local Secretaries of the Socialist Party

Dear Comrade:

In the June issue of The Socialist World are the minutes and resolutions of the National Convention held in New York City, May 19-22. Every party member, every local secretary, is invited—urged—to read carefully and thoughtfully.

It was a successful convention—or gives promise of being. Whether or not that promise is fulfilled depends upon how you read the plans outlined for the future. A convention cannot be a success in itself. It takes a live, determined membership, ready to support, eager to co-operate, capable of translating those proceedings into constructive action.

In every Socialist paper published during the past weeks, and in many non-socialist papers, you have read of the great throngs that have listened to Eugene V. Debs. He has spoken to thousands and thousands who were eager to hear him. They hung upon his words; they exulted in his message. And that message was—that message is—

"Socialism is the clarion call of the working class, the hope of humanity, the light of the world. We need, and want, and must have you—in the Socialist Party—now!"

That message will be carried from coast to coast by Comrade Debs before this year is ended. He is coming to Chicago on June 30th to attend a meeting of the National Executive Committee of the Socialist Party. The business before the Committee at that time will be the plans and instructions of the National Convention. They are all part of the one great purpose—a membership campaign to be begun without delay and to be continued until our organization has regained the strength it had before the war and persecution and dissension and despair all but destroyed it.

To rebuild the Socialist Party is Eugene V. Debs' one great purpose in life. It is because of his faith in and adherence to the principles of the Socialist Party that he has given himself unceasingly to the workers of this nation for thirty years. It was because he was with the Socialist Party, in accord with the Socialist Party, when he cried out against the horror and insanity of war, that he was thrust behind prison bars.

But that voice could not be silenced. It is calling you to join, to enlist, in a new campaign of organization. He wants you to stand with him and by him while he says to the workers of America:—"We stand for you! This is your cause. You are one of the toiling millions. Listen! We are of your class and we have resolved to free ourselves from wage slavery. Are you with us?"

There is not a loyal member of the Socialist Party who can say NO, to that appeal. But we want you to say YES—and say it now! Don't wait until you hear from the National Office after the Executive Committee meeting on June 30th. Organize your forces in advance. Be ready to receive the detailed plans for the campaign—they will be sent as soon after the meeting as possible.

Call a meeting of your local if necessary. Do just one thing—select your committee for the Membership Campaign. Just one thing to do—but a vitally important thing. Upon it depends the success of the campaign.

Don't elect members on this committee who "will consent to serve." Elect those who want to be on the committee! Three, or five, as you think best. And then carefully select a Chairman. He must be more than willing—he (or she) must be full of zeal and enthusiasm—and faith! The Chairman may be your local secretary. He should not be if it means loading him down with more work than he can carry. That is for you to decide. But it must be the best man or woman you can find for the place.

Then—send us the names of your committeemen and especially of your Chairman. They will be listed in the order received. A credential with duplicate number will be sent the Chairman. It will bear the seal of the National Organization and the signature of the National Chairman, Eugene V. Debs. With the credential will be the detailed plan for the Membership Campaign. Will you be ready when the Campaign opens?

Trusting you will return the enclosed blank filled in with the names of your committee before June 30th, I am

Yours fraternally,
 Otto Branstetter
 Executive Secretary
